CIF Israel International Exchange Program for the year 2016

Dates of the Program: May 6 – May 23 (18 days)

The program is targeted for 2 – 3 social workers and/or other related professionals in education and behavioral sciences. It provides cross-cultural exchange as participants come from different countries, thus providing opportunities for professional development, sharing and learning as well as broadening professional and personal horizons.

The Program includes orientation to the Israeli cultural-social-political-organizational structure as well as introduction to the existing social/human services system.

This year we will be able to offer professional experience in the following fields:

- Services for the elderly;
- Children and youth at high risk;
- Services for people with special needs and rehabilitation;
- Unemployment and occupational training services.

Participants will be placed in agencies related to their own specialized field to observe and discuss professional work. During the weekend participants will be able to tour the country on their own if they wish to do so.

The program will take place in Jerusalem, Tel-Aviv area and in the north part of Israel including a visit to a Kibbutz.

Participants should have good English because they will be engaged in discussions with Israeli professionals.

During the Program participants will stay with host families to get acquainted with the Israeli way of life. Please, no smoking requested.

Participants will pay 300 Euro (or equivalent in US Dollars) a contribution to the program costs and will be responsible for their personal luggage and health insurance as well as for overseas travel expenses.

Deadline for applications is December 1st 2015 through the national branch.

Application forms can be found on the web: www.cifinternational.com at the Programs link.
